

Public-Private Alliance Foundation

We send warm wishes for a peaceful, healthy and happy New Year.

As you make your year-end donations to the causes you believe in, please put the Public-Private Alliance Foundation on your list. You can make a last-minute tax deductible (in the U.S.) contribution quickly and easily on-line, or send a check.

Your support will help the Foundation continue its work towards establishing an ethanol-based cookstove project in Haiti. This project is bringing together businesses, investors, government, non-profit organizations, and others to establish long-term availability of ethanol cookstoves and fuel, produced in Haiti and creating new jobs for local people. At the same time the project will help save lives and health, especially of women and children, by reducing exposure to noxious fumes. It will also reduce reliance on wood and charcoal, and so help save and restore the mountainside woodcover to help prevent erosion. .

The Foundation is also facilitating the work of several organizations, government and investors to help rebuild Jacmel, Haiti and its tourism industry, is working on smaller projects in Madagascar, and continues work in the Dominican Republic on agribusiness and sustainable tourism.

How can you help?

Public-Private Alliance Foundation
166 Edgars Lane

If your envelope is postmarked by tomorrow, December 31, you will be eligible for a tax deduction this year in the U.S. If your company matches donations, please send the form that is needed.

Again, our very best wishes for the New Year,

David Stillman, PhD
